We are looking for a business leader who can help shape and promote one of England's most iconic towns - Stratford-upon-Avon – as CEO of the active and energetic Town Management Partnership.

We are looking for a dynamic and self-motivated person with vision, enthusiasm, tact, and diplomacy to encourage enterprise and innovation within the town, helping business members meet 21st century challenges and giving members a clear and effective voice at local, regional and national level. The CEO is responsible to an active Board for managing the staff and delivering an annual work programme of promotion and member services. The CEO will lead the Partnership in playing an active role in major initiatives underway in the town, including World Class Stratford and the Royal Shakespeare Company's Theatre Transformation and assuring potential visitors that the town is still "open for business."

Applicants should be educated to degree level and have excellent communications skills, together with a good understanding of Partnership working and the dynamics of how local government and the private sector operate. Some experience of marketing and public relations will be required.

The post will initially be offered as a three year renewable contract and will report to the Partnership's Board. Interviews will be held in early May and the successful candidate will be expected to start work on, or before, 1 July 2008.
