

TODAY | TOMORROW | TOGETHER

Croydon is in the process of establishing a BID for the town centre area and is planning to go to ballot in early 2007. The development and delivery of the BID is being managed by Croydon Business, the strategic business support agency for the borough, with town centre operations as part of its remit. The process is well underway and is being driven by a fully operational BID Board and BID Project Manager, with the support of the Local Authority BID Officer.

Croydon – Part-time BID Project Manager

up to £25,000 pa pro rata

An opportunity now exists for a part-time BID Project Manager (3 days a week) to work alongside the existing Project Manager to help deliver the BID in a timely manner and to a successful outcome. Initially this will be a temporary contract, but there could be a more permanent full-time opportunity with the implementation of the BID and its ongoing management, should a successful result be achieved at ballot (currently scheduled for early 2007.) The job will be based in Croydon Town Centre.

You will need to be self-motivated, with good project management and communication skills, capable of engaging business support for the BID. Knowledge or some experience of marketing would also be beneficial.

If you are interested, please contact us at the address below for a job description and send us your CV. Closing date for receipt of applications is June 16th 2006 and interviews will be held during the week commencing 19 June 2006.

Croydon – Town Centre and BID Operations Manager

£35,000pa

We are also looking for a BID and Town Centre Operations Manager to work with the BID Project Managers to help develop and promote the BID process and co-ordinate all operational activities relating to the BID area and the Town Centre of Croydon. Initially this will be for a fixed term three year contract but should the BID be successful, this will develop into a permanent position.

You will need a 'can do' approach, both in helping to establish operational frameworks for the BID company, input into the BID proposal and liaising with the Local Authority, service providers and the business community to engage support for the BID.

If you are interested, please contact us at the address below for a job description and send us your CV. Closing date for receipt of applications is June 16th 2006 and interviews will be held during the week commencing 19 June 2006.
